Would you rather have no electronic chargers for a year or wifi for 11 months!!

Chapter 2 by CatLover

No wifi for 11 months because having there would be no point having wifi if your devices ran out of power.

Would you rather be super rich with no talent at anything or talented in everything you do but be super poor?

Chapter 3 by Adisoccer1223

Talented in everything I do... If I find some way to make a professional living out of it, then I'll be rich, right?

Would you rather... Live your life with every cool thing that money could buy, but be lonely, or have nothing, but be entirely happy?

Would you rather be stuck in a dungeon with your best friend, or stuck on an island with your enemy?

Chapter 5 by ~Afraser~

I would definitely be in a dungeon with my best friend because even if you are in jail you have visiting time. So you could see any one and you would become even closer with your friend.

Would you rather be a mermaid that can come on land for a month at a time or a human that can live under water for 1 month at a time?

Chapter 6 by -

There's so much more to explore on land, and I'm basically afraid of the water, so I'd choose to be a mermaid. Besides, it would be cool to have a tail!

Would you rather spend one night alone in a cemetery or one night alone in a cave inhabited by a sleeping bear?

Chapter 7 by ☆Holly☆

I would spend 1 night in a cave inhabited by a sleeping bear because bears love me! 🐻

Would you rather have magic but be evil or be normal and be good?

Chapter 8 by -

I'd rather have magic and be evil. For if I was a magician, I would, therefore, have the power to summon someone that did have the ability to make me good. PROBLEM SOLVED
